Details

ABI NSW works with a variety of culturally and linguistically Diverse (CALD) families where English is their second language. In order for us to make our program and services more accessible to the CALD community we need to translate our brochures into the relevant CALD languages so families can read about the services that are offered for them and their child.

Our programs are delivered in English and so we are also seeking a volunteer to help us with interpreting services for our families in their home.

Interpreters will be helping us to translate any questions that the families may have for us about their specific child's needs and to also help us better communicate the strategies of our program to the families so that they can get the best possible outcomes for their child and also really benefit from our services.

We are seeking for student interpreters and translators fluent in English and also the following languages:

- Tagalog
- Mandarin
- Chinese
- Cantonese
- Vietnamese
- Urdu
- Hindi
- Arabic
- Turkish
- Russian
- Greek
- Spanish
